Creatures & Spirits 2022

This year, I have been focused on producing larger works. It's been interesting, like a series of marathons with no sprints in between. My bigger works can take around a month to complete, as I use small brushes and the level of detail requires that level of focus. It becomes like a form of therapy, especially when making and assembling all the pieces for the multi-media work.

Creatures and Spirits is a collection of some of my favourite subjects usually juxtaposed with unlikely settings or as portraits surrounded by a larger view of their worlds. I regard all my work as portraiture, regardless of the subject and I like to use the static space to weave as much of a narrative as I can.
